Make sure your deals have the highest level of protection on the market with Transaction Protection Endorsement

We get it; mistakes happen—don't rely on an inadequate E&O policy to protect your practice. Your clients (our insureds) can benefit from this endorsement and claim under the title insurance policy—allowing it to be settled outside of your mandatory E&O coverage.

Mistakes happen on big deals, too; that's why your clients can now benefit from this endorsement on all residential and commercial transactions.

Frequently Asked Questions

• Why should I request this endorsement?

This endorsement is available on residential and commercial real estate properties and when attached to an owner/and or loan policy, it will protect the insured against matters that might trigger a claim under the Errors & Omissions policy of the solicitor, creating frustrations for both the consumer and the solicitor.

• How is this coverage different from the Solicitors' mandatory Errors & Omissions or any other protection of that nature in the market?

The Transaction Protection Endorsement is transaction specific and will not require the insured to make a claim to the solicitor's Errors & Omissions provider or initiate litigation before making a claim to Chicago Title. The insured can present a claim under their title insurance policy directly.

• How does a claim work?

Once the claim is submitted to Chicago Title, we'll send an acknowledgement and proceed to the investigation to understand the facts and circumstances surrounding the claim. We will provide the analysis results and determine if the claim is covered under the policy.

It's the same great coverage you've come to rely on, now available for more of your deals. Do you have questions about how Transaction Protection Endorsement can benefit your practice? Connect with your Regional Director today!
